JAMESTOWN.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

Jamestown, N. J., July 12. Sunday morn-

SPECIAL CORRESPONDUNCE.

Jamestown, N. J., July la-Sanday morning at Jamestown almost reminds one of Goldsmith's "Deserted Village," so quier and reposeful is the town, The few that are about seem to be either going to church or to the post office. After dinner, which is still a midday meal everybody takes a test until 4 or 5 o'clock, when, if not too hot, the visitors go for drives to Comation Park, Beaver. Tall or Saunderstown. Cottage, hotel and plazzus are the frequented maces in the evening, when nice little telesa-trike many be observed. On occasions there is a sacred concert at one of the hotels.

Weekdays are entirely different. In outing existing all hands breakfast at 9 o'clock and swait the bathing hour. In the interim letters and newspapers are read and arrears in correspondence made up. After the ocean dip, a sail on the bay, rowing, you find tennis meanily fill the afternoons. Many of the cettage matrons serve ten each afternoon at 4 or a o'clock on their plazzas, and it is no onisual sight to witness a haif dozen or more young persons, the girls in short, white linen goil skirts, shirt waits and "Ladysmith" hats, and the men in flamess, grouped about a wicker table on somebody's side plazza anjoying the afternoon beverage in real English style. The test is often served locd and in Russint tumblers, with limin, as well as hot, with English miffine.

St. Louis society on the bill was rather taken by surprise the other day at the announced engagement of Mr. Levid R. Francis, Jr., sen of ex-Gavernor Francis, and Miss Sally C. Coulthurst, further of Mr. Charles Coulthurst of Danvers, Mass. Mr. Francis is a Yale man of the class of 189 and well known here, where he passes his summer vacations. He was among the few who participated in the welding gayeties of Harry Havemeyer and Miss Charlette Whitney.

OCEAN GROVE.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

Ocean Grave, N. J., July 19.—Camp meetings have been almost overshadowed here a part of this week by the discussion as to whether or not white flamed bathing suits should be allowed on the beach. The police say "no" emphatically, and it is reported by one peliceman that Bishop Fitz. Gerald is against them. The discussion was precipitated by the refusal of the police to allow a well-known Brooklyn, N. Y. woman to bathe at Lillagon's grounds because she wore a white suit. It was not of any thin material, being made from heavy flannel, but the puritanical police said it was unseemly and perhaps demoralizing, and that she must return to her bathhouse and never again appear on the beach in such a costume. She and her husband departed in anger the same day.

The Camp Meeting Association is being criticised on all sides for its strait-laced and unreasonable ethics of dress.

The Alaska House is entertaining Miss.

publican chairman, and the political colony is growing apace in numbers in anticipation of his comits.

The Horse Show, which is to be held next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, is all the talk just new on the hotel plazzas. The indications are that this year's exhibition is going to surpass all its predecessors Wealthy society leaders paid nearly Koco for the front row of private boxes last Saturday night at the auction sale and the entries are about a half hundred in excess of the number last year. The attendance this year will be large. The disappointment is keen that President and Mrs. Mc-Kinley are not going to arrive in time for the show. Senator Hanna, however, will be there, and Richard Croker and David B. Hill, and possibly Governor Roosevelt, if he returns from his Western trip. There will be dozens of lesser political lights fluttering around the private boxes that have been reserved for Mr. Hanna and the rest. "Pink hops" and "white balls" are all the rage this week. The principal "plak hop" was at the Scarboro, where seventy-five young women, all gowned in pink, partiet-parted in the festivities. The baliroom was also decerated in pink.

Raiph Welf of Little Rock is recreating at the Scarboro. The week's arrivals at the West End include: David B. Aloe of St. Louis, D. Lyons and D. Frankel of Kansas City and W. C. McKnight of Omaha.

ASBURY PARK.

PPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.
Asbury Park, N. J. July 19.—In his fight for right conduct on his beach, "Founder" James A. Bradley this week followed up his attack on the summer girls for wearing their bathing suits through the streets. with an even more viscoous ensianght on the men who go bathing in too scanty rat-ment. Ten of these chaps he caught at the Asbury avenue grounds on Tuesday. He had his policemen drive them into their bathhouses out of sight, and then adminibathhouses out of sight, and then administered to them a rasping reprimand for appearing on the beach in what he considered too little costhing. If those fellows appear again in their objectionable contumes the "Founder" promises to prosecute them for making of themselves a public nuisance.

The summer girl in her street lathling suit is still giving Senator Bradley a deal of trouble. She manages to clude his officers and to steal from her cottage to the surf. A second offense, however, the autocrat of the beach says, will give the prestices girl trouble, since he purposes to stop the practise.

That President McKinley will again visit Asbury Park this summer while he is at Eiberon is certain. The Common Council has sent him a special invitation to be present at a mass meeting in his honor, which the city proposes to hold in the autitorium. The plan is also to have Governor Roosevelt, Senator J. B. Foraker of Ohio and Senator Mark Hanna attend the meeting, which will take the form of a welcome from the entire coast.

Prominent among the Western guests at the select Coleman House are: Mrs. C. A. Williamson and Mrs. B. Fahren of St. Louis.
